

Display Screen Equipment (DSE) Assessment

The Display Screen Equipment Regulations require all workstations to be assessed to ensure compliance with the law. This action is not only a legal requirement but can also help reduce absence and improve efficiency. If an employee is sitting in the wrong position, using incorrect equipment or even has inadequate lighting then this may result in absence from work.

Who should attend the Display Screen Equipment (DSE) Assessment course?

The course is designed for DSE users, assessors, line managers, HR Personnel, IT Technicians, and those with responsibility for managing the risks of DSE use.
